Provided by the University of Wisconsin–Madison Interprofessional Continuing Education Partnership (ICEP)

Intended Audience:

Pediatric emergency care professionals

Objectives:

As a result of this educational regularly scheduled series, learners will be able to:

1. Utilize new skills and guidelines determined to be safe for children when accessing pediatric trauma.
2. Identify proper tools and standardized practices in order to improve the diagnosis and treatment of pediatric patients.
3. Define roles and responsibilities of team members who triage pediatric emergencies in order to identify communication strategies that result in effective patient care.

Policy on Disclosure

It is the policy of the University of Wisconsin-Madison ICEP that the faculty, authors, planners, and other persons who may influence content of this CE activity disclose all relevant financial relationships with commercial interests* in order to allow CE staff to identify and resolve any potential conflicts of interest. Faculty must also disclose any planned discussions of unlabeled/unapproved uses of drugs or devices during their presentation(s). For this educational activity, all conflicts of interest have been resolved and detailed disclosures are listed below.

- The University of Wisconsin-Madison ICEP defines a commercial interest as any entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. The University of Wisconsin-Madison ICEP does not consider providers of clinical service directly to patients to be commercial interests.

You get called for an unresponsive child

- Airway intact
- Breathing OK
- Pulse steady
- On secondary exam, there's a tube coming out of the abdomen...

What could it be?

- Gastrostomy or Gastro-jejunostomy
- Cecostomy
- Appendicostomy
- PD Catheter

Gastrostomy or Gastro-jejunostomy

The Old Fashioned Way

The Newfangled Way

Other ways

Cecostomy

Appendicostomy

PD Catheter

What could go wrong?

- Granulation
- Ulceration
- Infection
- Gastric outlet obstruction
- Gastric prolapse
- The tube falls out
- Fistula

What if the gtube falls out?

- Put something in the hole
- When was it placed?
 - Less than 8 weeks: uh-oh
 - More than 8 weeks: meh
- When in doubt, get a radiographic study
- If the tract is durable, aspiration of gastric contents is sufficient.
